Unravel the patterns hidden closest to your heart by immersing yourself in authentic Himalayan traditions and culture. On this Transformational Journey to Uttarakhand, India with Fernweh Fair Travel, we will lodge in a boutique farm stay on the edge of a wild life sanctuary, peruse village markets, enjoy local cuisine, and so much more. All beneath the majestic peaks of the Himalayan Mountains.

We will close our time in Uttarakhand, India with ceremony and celebration, but our journey will be far from over. We will support each other on the 4th Path of the Journey of Transformation with three monthly gatherings where we can reflect on our insights and experiences from the trip and encourage each other as we seek to live into the new realities we envisioned on our journey.

Walk with your Shadow on the steep trek to Tungnath temple, the highest Shiva temple in the world at 12,073 feet. Stand atop Chandrashila Peak, with 360-degree views of the mighty Himalayas. Venture deep into the Kedarnath Wildlife Sanctuary, and spend the night in off-grid forest cabins above 8,000ft. Here, the stars will fill your soul.

On this journey we will begin our days with forest bathing and river meditations. We will end our days with reflection and fire councils. And in-between we'll discover our own inner landscape by exploring the rich world and culture around us.

Fernweh Fair Travel has been creating new beginnings for widows and their children, underprivileged communities, and local artisans for nearly 20 years. Our journey supports their efforts, as their journey teaches us new ways of being in the world.

We'll share home-made meals with locals, and we'll learn handicraft methods and history from artisans in the untouchable tribal villages.
